

My Personal Strengths and Weaknesses

Introduction to Business

Directions:

Students will explore their strength and weakness by complete the Five Strengths and 3 Weaknesses Worksheet. On a blank page in Word, students will create a numbered list of 5 personal strengths.

Then write a 100-word summary on why these listed reasons are strengths. Then, list 2 weakness and write a 100-word summary on what you can do to overcome the weakness.

Strengths: -Good communication skills, Likes to read and write, Enjoys trying new things, Like to meet new people, and is very good at math

Weaknesses: I'm not the best at science, As well as not being good at learning things visually, and I'm afraid of closed spaces

The reason my listed reasons are strengths are that they represent what I'm good at, I can communicate well with people as well as read and write well. I like to try and do new things as well as get new points of view and get new experiences. I enjoy meeting new people as well as sharing experiences with others and changing many perspectives. One of my favorite subjects is math because it shows many different ways to solve a problem as well as many different solutions sometimes. Those are some of my strengths and things that I'm good at or enjoy to do.

I have a few weaknesses, these weaknesses are that I'm not the best at science and I'm, not a visual learner. These are my two main reasons because they affect my academics as well as affecting the way I learn, the way I could improve these weaknesses is to study more science and to find more ways to learn when a subject is brought in visually. These weaknesses affect many things but I look forward to overcoming these weaknesses and maybe one day they will end up as my strengths, but those are overall all my weaknesses and potential ways I can solve them.
